5. Make sure that the “Branch” option reads “18-025 SAN FRANCISCO” and that your e-mail address is correct on the Step 2 page.

Click on the years that you want to renew your members (i.e., each red button is one year, so the example below is just renewing for one year).

Decide if you want your membership to be automatically renewed each year (i.e., Dominion Command of the Royal Canadian Legion would securely hold your credit card information and they would renew your membership each year until you told them to stop or until your credit card was out of date). If you wish to manually renew each year, leave the “Auto Renewal” option as “No.”

As a Canadian entity, Dominion Command charges members in Canadian funds. As such, the annual membership fee is $50 in Canadian funds (which is approximately $40 in US funds). If you want to pay in US funds you must send a cheque to the branch Membership Chair.

When you are done, click on the MAKE PAYMENT ($##.##) button at the bottom right of the screen.

Step 2. Select number of years to renew

6. On the Step 3 page, add your credit card information and billing address.

Note that you will be charged in Canadian funds. Some credit cards have an international currency fee. Be sure to check if this applies to your credit card. If it does, it may be worthwhile for you to renew your membership via cheque by mail.

Once you have added your credit card information and billing address, click on the blue SAVE button first, and then click on the red PROCESS PAYMENT button.
